A rich deposit of magnetic iron ore has been discovered near Stevens' Point, Wisconsin.

What the telegraph accomplishes for the nineteenth century is illustrated in the fact tribe, a single pair of corn weevils will produce that the attempted assassination of the Czar is believed to have become known to the mass of the people of New York city sooner than to those of Paris, where it occurred. The Australian vintage this year is larger than was ever before known, and the yield of gold is increased over that of last year. Over 30,000 tons of breadstuffs have been sent to England, and 105,000 tons more are ready for transportation.

It is stated that Justice WAYNE, of the United States Supreme Court, is very low, and physicians think he cannot live long. He was appointed to his present position by President JACKSON, thirty-two years ago, and had been, prior to that time, a member of Congress from Georgia, his native State. About 28,000 acres of land, yielding rich iron ore, has been purchased in Canada, about forty miles from Lake Ontario, and the railroad connecting with Cohurg will soon be doing a large business in transporting the ore to market. The route to the mines was opened Since the emancipation of the negroes in the United States, and especially since the termination of the American war, slaves have greatly degressed in value in Porto Rico-so much so, indeed, that at the present time the price of plantation slaves is entirely nominal, and it is impossible to sell them at anything like their former value. The cause of the death of the Archduches MATILDA, of Austria, affianced to the heir of the Italian throne, has transpired. She was smoking a eigarette in her parlor, and when some one came in she hastily put it behind her. and her dress, which was of light material, caught fire, and she was burned to death. She was only eighteen, and very much beloved by the people. The Sublime Porte has issued a firman cor ferring on aliens the right to buy and hold land in the Ottoman Empire. This is a sensible and liberal grant for the good of all parties; but although its mutual advantages are now apparent to every one, it is an international reform of comparatively but recent date, and one for thich the United States, in its infancy, can claim credit.

Rev. JAMES HUNT, of Northmore Green England, writes about his parishioners thus: "The services here at 11 and 2 o'clock have been as plain and unritualistic as possible for at 8 A. A Parislan journal says; "The attention of the Cast, the King of Prussis, and even of Count you BENARCE, was, during the late balls and fetes, attracted by the large number of bloades with golden hair who adorned the quadrilles. The Venetian bloade, which during the last two years fell much in estimation, har in the course of the present month risen greatly in the bourse of fashion. A hairdress-er said lately that in ten days he had sold fairhair defersations to the amount of 10,000f. Thus, it seems the trade in hair is in the full tide of

A Russian document shows that the direct trade between Russia and China is declining. At Kinthka, where it is chiefly carried on, it only amounted to 8,500,000 roubles in 1866. whereas in 1862 it was 18,500,000. This is owing to various causes the permission to introduce tes into Russia by seaports, instead of one naively by land, as formerly; the disturbed political state of China; the dishonesty of Russian merchants. It is probable that the land trade will go on declining, inasmuch as it is considerably cheaper to convey goods from Shanghai to the Baltic by sea than to carry them everland through deserts.

The funeral of the young Archduchess Ma-TILDA, who was burnt to death, took place while her uncle was going through his corons tion pageantry at Pesth. The body of the poor girl was buried in the imperial vault at the Capuchin menastery, and was placed by the side of her mother, the Archduchess HILDE-CARDE, who died three years ago. The Archduches MATILDA was the one hundred and first reyal person entrusted to the care of the Capuchin monks. Seventy-two years ago another member of the Austrian house, the young Archduke Laopold, brother of the Emperor FRANCIS, was burnt at Luxemburg, through an explosion of fireworks. In accordance with the custom usual in the burial of members of the imperial family, the heart of the Archduchess was deposited in the Church of the Augustinians, and the intestines have been sent to the Cathedral of St. Stephen.

THE HOT WEATHER and the great consumption of ice suggest the propriety of explaining how ice may be made artificially. The process is simple and beautiful. The principal thing required is a good air-pump. On the top of the air-pump set a plate containing sulphuric seid; place a small stool in the plate. and on the stool set a small tray with water in it. Over all place a low glass cover, fitting air tight. The pump being worked the air is drawn out, and with the removal of the pressare the water evaporates rapidly. It soon begins to boil in consequence of the development of heat. Meanwhile the vapor, carrying and the honor of his State and her fair daughthe heat away with it, is absorbed by the sulphuzic seid. Thus the water is actually frozen solid while it seems to boil. Whether the to the front in joyful response and register". apparatus could be improved or the principle be need for the production of ice in large quar tities remains to be proved. But if the art of manufacturing ice on a large scale shall be discovered (and the germ of it exists in this experiment) we may expect to see ice factories established. In fact, experiments have already been made, with a fair share of success. in the production of artificial ice at a cost much less than that of the blocks left at our doors by the ice carts.

CURRENT TOPICS.

Tue Season has arrived when people at roubled with insects, which annoy the perso and injure the crops. So numerous are some of them that many persons declare they "will be eaten up alive," and we believe they would be and the crops destroyed but for the number of creatures that devour said insects. Lucky it is for humanity that the carnivorous insects do not increase as rapidly as the granivorous; otherwise, in spite of musquito nets, flea powders and bug-banes, there is no telling how many of us would be destroyed by nocturnal

As an instance of the fecundity of the insect from 6,000 to 8000 descendants a season, and this is a low rate of increase as compared with the increase of some other insects, including those that infest houses and persons that are not noted for their cleanliness. Of them we will not discourse. The female ant lays 80,000 eggs per day, and it has been proven by an eminent naturalist that the female aphis, or plant parasite, becomes, in five brief generations, the mother of a family of 6,000,000,000. The queen bee deposites 120,000 eggs in twenty days. We cite her, not because we would find fault if her honey-sweet majesty layed 'twice the number, but as an instance of reproductive industry. Of the infinitesimal insects that produce what is called blight, comparatively little is known, but their multiplicatory powers must be enormous. The mosquito, whose bloodthirsty legions will soon commence their work, is not quite as prolific as some other entomological nuisances, but in particularly warm and humid seasons its procreative capacities appear to be increased a hundred fold. The common house fly will produce over a million of young during the season, and others of our annoyances in like proportion.

THE Norfolk Estuary Company in England has just completed another embankment of two miles in length at North Wooten, adjoining the lands of the Prince of Wales and the Hon. Mrs. MARY GREVILLE HOWARD. It was begun in February last, and has added about seven hundred acres to that already reclaimed by this company in the Wash. This now makes a total of about four thousand acres of the thirty-two thousand to be recovered from the sea, for which the necessary funds were raised by the authority of an amended act of Parliament in 1849. A local paper says : "The undertakings of the company are becoming of great importance to this part of the country, for if the same rate of enclosure be continued yearly, there is no doubt that the once-talked-of Victoria county will become a reality. The cost of enclosure is about ten pounds per acre, and the estimated value of the lands enclosed was, at a late arbitration between the owners of the adjoining land and the company, considered to be worth fifty pounds per acre; when it was also stated 'that the land would make bricks; there was a good site for buildings, good water, gravel to make roads, and houses might be built on the high land, and corn would grow there.' This is already a fact, for on the land enclosed GEO. PIERREPONT BENTINGE, a fine crop of wheat is in a promising condition for the next harvest. The last enclosure has been carried out by Mr. WILLIAM WALKER, the contractor, being the second bank he has made for the company, and extends from the south end of the last enclosure to Gay's Creek, which will be diverted from its present channel. The bank has been made continuously, without leaving openings for the tides to pass through, as has been hitherto adopted."

THIRTY-TWG YEARS AGO, Sir CHARLES LYELL examined some ancient sea-marks on the coast of Sweden, and concluded therefrom that the land of Sweden was rising gradually at the rate of three feet in a century. The Earl of Selkirk has recently examined the same marks. and comes to an opposite conclusion, which he has just communicated to the Geological Society. The change in the position of the marks he regards as apparent only, due to fluctuations in the level of the water, and not to any upward movement of the land. The question thus opened is important. Perhaps other geologists will take it up, and carry it on to a satisfactory solution. Among other geological facts is the demonstration that gold exists in the gravel of the river valleys of Central New Brunswick, as reported by Mr. SHEA; and the surprising yield from a copper mine in Newfoundland. When last year a few specimens of copper ore from that locality were exhibited at the conversazione of the President of the Royal Society at Burlington House, no one anticipated the discovery that has since taken place. At a depth of seventy feet, while sinking the shaft, the miners came upon a lode of rich ore four feet thick; a level was then run at eight angles to the direction of the lode, and at a distance of eighty feet, another and richer lode was struck. Ten feet further there was another twenty feet thick, and ten feet still further another of four feet. This is a most extraordinary instance of the occurrence of copper: the yield will be enormous, for the distance to which the several lodes extend are unknown, and many years may be spent before they are worked out. Specimens are to be seen in the Great Exhibition at Paris, along with specimens of lead ore also from Newfoundland, described as rich as silver.

IN NO OTHER COUNTRY in the world is there anything like the great proportion of property destroyed by fire that there is in the United States. A recent Italian correspondent, in his letter from Florence, after remarking that "if you have property in a house in Florence, the chances are that your children may enjoy it after you, for fire cannot destroy the house. and only an earthquake can throw it down,' he says: "There has been but one fire here (Florence) of any consequence within the memory of men now living:" He then contrasts this with our fire returns in this country, remarking: 'It makes one shudder to think of the pasteboord and buckram constructions in the United States. The enormous losses by fire every year in America, are among the saddest things we have to present to the contemplation. of a European. In Italian buildings there is hardly anything to burn, while in ours nearly everything is combustible." This is all perfectly true: but at the same time we may add that the greatly improved character of the buildings which have been erected of late years, non-combustible materials in their construction, give hope that we shall yet have a better state of things, though it may not be realized until fire and fate shall have swept away all the poor buildings that were left us by the last generation.

ATLANTA TO CHARLESTON.

The arrival in this city on Wednesday afternoon of a train of cars through from Atlanta, with the first large consignment of wheat from middle and northern Georgia, without breaking bulk, is an event in railroad transportation, which, however simple, and to outsiders easy of execution it may seem, has not before been performed ince the general destruction of tracks, cars nd engines, in the spring of 1865. Such an event is of too much importance to the rade of the city to be overlooked.

We learn that Col. E. W. COLE, the Superintendent of the Georgia Railroad gathered into one train the first of the new crop of wheat from upper Georgia, and with the splendid locomotive, the "Thomas Rogers," (Mr. R. B. Hudson, Engineer and Mr. WM. FULLER, Conductor,) left Atlanta on Tuesday afternoon at six o'clock. arriving here in time to ship the grain by four P. M., Wednesday, by the En ily B. Souder, for New York. The distanc from Atlanta to Augusta is one hundred and seventy-two miles, from August, to Charleston, one hundred and thirty-eigh

otal three hundred and ten miles. This through train, we repeat, is a sign of the times. It shows what can be done by proper effort, backed, of course, by corresponding resources—a railroad must have powerful locomotives, an abundant supply of cars, its track in perfect order, and large resources in money to undertake continuous journeys over three or four hundred miles of track; and it is pleasant to infer from the joint efforts of the Georgia and South Carolina Railroad Companies. that the damages of 1865 are being rapidly

Only twenty-two hours from the Atlanta Depot to the steamship in the port of Charleston! Cannot this become a matter of daily routine? We know that it can, and we believe that it will be so when the fall trade opens; and if some PEABODY of great greenback capacity would generously donate, or even loan, the South Carolina Railroad Company a fund sufficient to pay for about four hundred box cars. and a proportionate number of locomotives and passenger coaches, we make no doubt this increased means of transportation would be taxed to its utmost during the coming season, and instead of two we could have three or four daily through trains to and from not merely Atlanta, but even Montgomery.

But we are indulging, perhaps, in too great expectations, and must content ourselves with the assurance of what is actualy agreed upon between these two roads connecting us with Atlanta. There is to be a night train through from here to the Gate City, as there is already a day train. President KING of the Georgia Railroad s well as President MAGRATH of the South Carolina Railroad, have had difficulties of no mean character to contend with; the first in addition to heavy losses in rolling stock, depots, tracks, etc., etc., has had to redeem $1,000,000 of bank notes of its own issue, which has been bravely accomplished at par; no scaling there! The latter can point triumphantly to his eighty miles of (new) road replaced-the now thorough renovation of his entire track; his permanent bridges and depots rebuilt, all without loans, and after such work can fairly claim the confidence of his stockholders and the business community, in what seems to be the somewhat thankless task of furthering the interests of Charleston and the State. In conclusion we beg our merchants to make a note of it, that there is to be no breaking of bulk between Charleston and Atlanta, and that two trains a day will go forward to bring produce East, and carry goods and merchandise, fertilizers and agricultural utensils West. In other words. here is going to be a lively business, and our merchants will do well to let their country customers know it.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.

On Thursday the anniversary of American Independence was celebrated in Charleston, quietly by the white citizens, but with unwonted eclat by the newly enfranchised colored people. The enthusiasm and the extensive employment of iron and other that for so many years marked the celebration of the Feurth of July appears to have been, in a great measure at least, transferred from the former class to the latter. And this is quite natural. In former times this was a gala day in Charleston, because of the grand parades of our numerous, gorgeously uniformed volunteer militia companies, each one of whom strove in honorable rivalry, to eclipse all the others, and neither pains nor expense were spared to make the members and the companies appear in first rate soldierly trim. Then there were various civil associations, which celebrated their anniversaries on this day. The abolition of our militia companies sapped the very foundations of the Fourth of July. The great social and political ebullition, the resultant of the war, has brought new elements to the surface, which have assumed the place and discharge the have assumed the place and discharge the surface, which have assumed the place and discharge the surface, which have assumed the place and discharge the surface, with directions and pamphlet, by addressing to F. A. DUPORT & CO., functions of those supplanted by the revolution. The colored race has a natural penchant for "shows" of any kind, and in the days of its thraldom formed a large contingent of all our parades and processions.

We do not think the same elements of society have moved along as harmoniously in any other city of the South, as has been the case in Charleston. We observed them closely on Thursday, and saw nothing in the least reprehensible. There was much to be sure, to execute the risibilities of those inclined to see the ludierous. But the mimicry was all in good faith, and conducted with the utmost decorum. We are glad our colored friends enjoyed themselves_and did it all in such a perfectly orderly manner. In another column will be found fuller accounts of the festivities.

HAIR EXTERMINATOR. For Removing Superfluous Hair. TTO THE LADIES ESPECIALLY, THIS INVALUABLE

To the Ladies Especially, this invaluable depliatory recommends itself as being an almost in dispensible article to female beauty, is easily applied, does not burn or injure the skin, but acts directly on the roots. It is warranted to remove superfluous hair from low foreheads, or from any part of the body, completely, totally and radically extirpating the same, leaving the skin soft, smooth and natural. This is the only article used by the French, and is the only real effectual depliatory in existence. Price 75 cents per package, postpaid to any address, on receipt of an order, by BERGER, SHUTTS & CO., Chemists, March 30 by No. 285 River st., Troy, N. Y.

EXPLANATION OF DRAWINGS.

The numbers from 1 to 30,000 corresponding with the numbers on the Tickets, are printed on separate slips of paper, and encircled with small tubes and placed in a glass wheel—all the prizes in accordance with the Scheme, are similarly printed and encircled, and placed in another glass wheel. The wheels are then revolved, and two boys, blindfolded, draw the numbers and prizes. One of the boys draws one number from the wheel of numbers, and at the same time the other boy draws out one prize from the wheel of prizes. The number and prize drawn out are exhibited to the audience, and whatever prize comes out is registered and placed to the credit of that number—and this operation is repeated until all the prizes are drawn out.

The Tickets are printed in the following style: They are divided into Eighths, printed on the face of the Ticket. Sighths bearing the same number constitute a Whole Ticket. Prizes payable without discount.
